NUMBER 119

Work On New Plant To Begin In March

NEW WATER AND LIGHT PLANT FOR DOTHAN WILL BE A MODERN ONE

Alderman B. R. Pilcher, chairman of the water and light committee of the city council, and city engineer of Dothan, announced that the work on the new water and light plant would probably begin by the first of March. The appropriation by the city council has not yet been made, but he is under the impression that this part of it is a certainty. They are now waiting on finances, and expect to have the necessary amount by the above date.

The plant will be located on the lot between the Central of Georgia railroad and the Central ice plant. The present plans provide for a plant at a cost of $80,000, and this amount will be asked for by the city. The fixtures of the present plant and the machinery will be also added to the new plant, which will make it one that will give ample water and lights for the city of Dothan. The plant now being used cost approximately $30,000, and with this added to the cost of the erection of the new one will make the plant cost about $90,000.

Mr. Pilcher stated that an effort would be made to have the council reserve the lot on which the old plant is located for the purpose of a municipal building site. If this is reserved, a new fire building will be erected and the fire department will be enlarged, and on the upper floors will be the council chambers and the city officials' offices. These are the present plans of the city councilmen, according to Mr. Pilcher.

It is our one purpose to please our customers and if our porters fail in any way to give polite service, please let us know at once. Bonham & Son.

Charles Brooks and John Wilham, of Blakely, were in Dothan for a few hours yesterday looking after business interests.

GREAT SHOOTING

L. T. Spinks, who travels for the Peters Cartridge Co., was in Dothan yesterday and gave an exhibition of fancy shooting, the like of which hadn't been seen in Dothan since Mr. Spinks' visit here a few years ago.

He takes a rifle and shoots potatoes, English walnuts, eggs, or other objects, as they are thrown up in the air, and rarely ever misses. He found a man who didn't mind holding an object in his hands to be shot, and he shot off pieces of crayon while held in the hand with a rifle, the sight of which was concealed by a piece of card board pulled over the end of the barrel. He shot matches while held in the hand, and hit the cardboard while held edgewise.

With the shot gun, he would hit a shell thrown from the gun before it hit the ground; or he would lay a can on the ground, shoot it into the air, and then hit it with several shots before it got back. He would pitch the gun in the air, and throw half dozen eggs in the air, catch his gun and break them all.

Shooting with Spinks comes natural. He has been practicing since he was a boy, however, to keep his hand in.

He has a trick of shooting either one, or two holes in a piece of paper at one shot—just whichever you called, but no one found out how it was done.

THE STREET FAIR TONIGHT

Many are expected to attend the street fair which will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. George Malone. The attractions are to be the best of the kind ever presented here and everybody will enjoy the fun. Only local talent will be used and you will see Dothan people in roles that they were never expected to appear in. There will be about a dozen attractions. The price of admission will be 15c and 25c and this will include every attraction on the midway.

"AS YOU LIKE IT CLUB"

Mrs. O. R. Morgan's attractive home on North Oates street was the scene of a most enjoyable meeting of the "As You Like It Club" on Thursday afternoon. The bright open fires and blossoming potted plants lent an added charm to the cherry home, three apartments of which were thrown open for the event. The guests were received in the large reception hall, and from there ushered into the library, where tea was served from a beautifully arranged table by Mrs. Fritter and Mrs. Boyd. Nine tables of players were entertained by a series of games of nations, after which the hostess was assisted in serving tempting refreshments in two courages by Mrs. Culver, Mrs. Gaines and Mrs. Ellison.

GOOD SHELLS

Any and all shells that are made by the Peters Cartridge Company are made with the new improved, hard beveled crimp and are absolutely water-proof. They are especially adapted for repeating shotguns, such as automatic and pump. We guarantee every shell that we put out, and demonstrate that they shoot harder and more uniformly than any shell on the market. The Peters Cartridge Company do not load any cartridges for pistol or rifle with black powder, it's either semi or full smokeless. All shooting galleries throughout the United States use the Peters 22 semi-smokeless cartridges on account of their hard shooting and cleanliness. Thousands of shots can be used without cleaning. Try a box of these and you will use no others.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

"The Prize Winners" in which the Lyman Twins will appear here at the Elite theatre next Monday night is one of the most appropriate names ever given a show when this attraction was termed that. They are truly prize winners, but not for this season only, for, as most every showgoer who has had the good fortune of seeing the best attractions knows, they have been the prize winners for many seasons. The Lyman twins are two brothers, just exactly alike and are princes when it comes to pleasing an audience. And that crowd of pretty girls they take with them add so much more to the attraction. Those who have seen the "Prize Winners" this season say that it is the best of travelling musical comedies and one that will appeal to a Dothan audience. It is one of the highest class and highest price attractions making a southern tour and few towns the size of Dothan are offered the opportunity of seeing any such enjoyable performance. And besides its a guaranteed show. Tickets are now on sale at Hammond's Drug Store for 75c, $1 and $1.50.

They should be reserved early as not only Dothan people will be there but many out-of-town people are coming to this "Prize Winner."

J. H. Adams, of Ozark, was a familiar visitor to Dothan Thursday night.

Regular 25c box stationery at Strickland Brothers for 19c for a few days.

Charles Hancock, of Phenix City, was a visitor to Dothan Thursday afternoon and night.

Grady Adams, of Moultrie, Ga., was among the business callers to Dothan last night.

Our Infallible Flour is still in the lead. When you want to bake a cake, order a sack. Bonham & Son, phone 463.

W. J. Ward, of Coffee Springs, was in the city a few hours this morning en route to Troy, where he goes to visit relatives.

Our Fernhill coffee has taken the town by storm, we can't order it fast enough to supply the demand. Bonham & Son, phone 463.

J. E. Wise, of Dothan passed through Montgomery yesterday en route to Birmingham, on business. Montgomery Advertiser.

O. T. Barr and sister, Miss Eva S. Barr, of Montgomery, who have been here on a visit to friends, have returned to the capital city. While here they were at the Martin.

OFFICERS RETURN FROM SUCCESSFUL WEEK AMONG MOONSHINERS.

J. L. Reeves deputy U. S. Collector, A. J. Collier, deputy marshal, A. B. Vickory and J. M. Ellis returned to the city yesterday afternoon after a successful week among the moonshiners of Houston county. During their raids they captured and destroyed eight complete stills together with about 100 gallons of beer and a large quantity of rum in different parts of the county.

Tom Cherry who resides about 5 miles north east of the city, Arch Robinson, residing 4 miles from town and Henry Booker who lives near Gordon were placed under arrest and brought to Dothan. They were arraigned before Judge C. S. Tutwiler and were placed under bond.

Others were implicated in the illicit distilleries but owing to the fact that they have not been arrested their names were withheld.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends who showed such kindness and sympathy during the sickness and death of a husband and father. We can never forget their thoughtfulness during our sadness. The Family of J. I. L. Holland.

Telephone No. 119

Friday, January 27, 1911

We ought to have a better administration than we have had before, for it will be costing more.

The weather man is determined to make the fruit trees bloom out, so that a frost next month will get them.

It is gratifying that the people of Birmingham found a site for the new postoffice building without having to get ten or fifteen miles out from the heart of town.

The Charleston News and Courier predicts that a man in that town will be rich as cream some day, for he is buying Charleston real estate. The man may leave some relatives who will reap the benefit, but he won't have time to live long enough to see the city get on a boom.

Old "Mack" McCants, of Hartford, is getting out the best paper that was ever published in that town. It is probably due to the fact that he was one of the old time printers before he had the responsibility of editing a paper thrust upon him, for he was a printer about a hundred years before he went to Hartford.

It is said that Taft is being slowly sidetracked by his party. The trouble is, his party sees some straws leaning another way, and they believe that it is because Taft's ideas are not what they were when Roosevelt turned them over to him.

HAS HOPES.

The Birmingham News has hopes. It thinks that if the country keeps up the lick of sending newspaper editors to the senate and the house, that in time the Congressional Record will yet become one of the interesting periodicals.

We have never had any faith in that publication amounting to much, from the fact that they don't seem to have a business office that is doing anything. The advertising department is lax in its duties, even Post isn't using any of the space.

It may be that if enough newspaper men get in Washington they might insert some ginger in the daily, but it has shown mighty little improvement in ten years, and as a financial venture, we don't believe it will meet a legitimate payroll.

CAN'T YOU WAIT?

When Sheriff Hood went up to the capitol and interviewed Gov. O'Neal he went back down Dexter Avenue telling the boys things. The substance of what he told them was "Boys, can't you wait a few days till you are given more liberty?"

The soft drink people of Montgomery had entirely quit trying to sell liquor and beer on the sly. When the crowd went up to the capitol to see the new governor sworn in, a quick change was made. All slyness was done away with, and the old bar fixtures had been dusted up and put in their accustomed places. From this little beginning, the saloon advocates figured that their cause was being injured, and they decided to hold the lid on for a few more days, to lobby their bill through. That is the cause of Sheriff Hood giving warning to cover things over for a few days.

BEEN HEARD FROM

Representative Dowell, of Henry county, has been heard from. He has introduced a bill to do away with the law creating the state tax commissions. This is a thing that the people of Alabama are somewhat interested in, not that there is no demand for an equalization of tax values in Alabama, but because the state tax board knows nothing of the conditions in most of the counties, and their mission is mainly to bluff chicken-hearted commissioners into raising people's taxes, with a threat that if the taxes were not raised, something would be done. To do away with the state tax board, would put the work square up to the board of county commissioners to do their that the members of the commission court know something of the value of such property, and could pass on it intelligently. If they raise it, they stand by their action, and don't try to palm it off on the state board.

We hope Mr. Dowell will become famous by having the bill passed, and Henry county may send him back again some time.

GONE TO THE COUNTRY.

"Uncle Bulger, what's on your mind?"

"I was thinkin' 'bout how some nigger's been round dis town since the first of January."

"You des cant find no niggers here to fill all de jobs dat's open to 'em?"

"All de public works, de factories, de mills, and de railroads is wantin' lands, and advertisin' for 'em, but da ain't no nigger."

"Wher' do at? Gone to de country plowin', bless Katy, or cuttin' down newgrowth, rollin' logs, 'cause da ain't gwine pay dat $5 street tax long as da kin be'p it, and 'Chief' 'Mingus already been lookin' f'r 'em."

"It wont so bad when street tax went but $3, but a nigger des nashally hates to pay $5 street tax when he aint got no streets to speak of, and what he has got gits monstus little workin'."

"So de niggers is makin' da annual pilgrimage to de country, or to some town whar street tax don't cost no $5. Da ain't goin' come to town till da think de policemen done forgit all 'bout 'em; den I'll think you know da will slip in town some Sad'y mornin', and it's 'come go wid me nigger—You aint paid yo' street tax,' and den de policemen kot um locked up, f'r nigger cant stay way fum Dothan long."

"Now, you aint got no Little ol' piece o' 'bacco? I got er ol' jaw tooth whar hurts me mighty had here lately, mighty bad!"

A POINT OF VIEW

The sense of perspective—mental or otherwise—is the one that enables us to appreciate correctly the immediate and remote importance of any event that comes within our range of perception.

Properly used, it aids us in estimating what could have been the value of the stultified possibilities of the past and in determining what, by reason of our experience, ought to be the real measure of the probabilities of the future.

Perspective is, however, a sense but rarely used, else we had ere now applied it to our present condition.

We have heard much of late in regard to the economic importance of Hookworm Disease, but even yet the cry that has gone up from the burdened land has not been fully heard, or, if it has, its importance has been considered momentary rather than momentous—elementary rather than elemental.

There is, in the Dothan Free Dispensary, a small bottle. In it there are just 911 hookworms, and that is all. But that all is enough and more than enough, for these few worms represent a loss to Houston county that neither Houston nor any other county can afford.

The sufferer from whom these worms were removed had been for five years an invalid. All that time he lived at home, a conscious burden on his parents' shoulders, a member of the great army of consumers, not producers.

He became weaker and weaker, and ultimately sought relief. From him 911 hookworms were removed in the fall of 1909 and during that year and 1910 he improved so much that he was able for the first time to grow his own cotton crop.

Allow that he gathered five bales of cotton. Figure that for five years before he should have done the same, and then estimate the cost to Houston county of the little bottle of worms now lying in the dispensary.

This is an exceptional case, but it shows more clearly than anything else could the real importance of getting rid of the disease from our midst, before it gets a better hold and works more havoc still. We must leave the subtler calculations to the statisticians.

We have seen enough to stimulate our sense of perspective.

J. FRASER ORR.

This is only one case brought to our attention by Dr. J. Fraser Orr, of the Rockefeller Sanitary Institute, who is at the head of the free dispensary for the eradication of hookworm disease in Houston county.

There are many more, not only in Houston county, but all over the South.

This young man, during the time he was unable to work, was a burden to his family, if not to the community. If he had been treated five years ago, Houston county would have grown $2,000 worth of cotton more than it has grown, and the man's family would have been that much better off. He is feeling fine and fit now, and is a producer, and feels like work all the time. He is not only making cotton, but every other item that a farmer grows.

Hookworm Disease is probably costing the South millions of dollars in wealth each year.

If we have twenty in Houston county, the county is producing $10,000 less wealth than it should if they were treated and made well; if we have one hundred, then our tribute to the hookworm is $50,000 every year.

A boy with hookworms isn't half a boy—he is a patient—an invalid, who needs curing that he might get out and do a boy's work, or a man's work.

Poison of the Primrose

By Gordon Lloyd, M.D.

Sundry poets have ever and anon had their say about the pleasures of the "primrose way," but the way of this innocent looking little flower is not always pleasant. For the primrose has a way of setting up violent eczema in susceptible persons. Few florists know this. But the fact is that the primrose is not unlike poison ivy in its toxic effect.

A prominent dermatologist recently reported fifty cases in the Journal of the American Medical Association, and he states that there are doubtless very many cases of eruptive and inflammatory conditions of the skin attributed to other causes which are really due to the primrose. In Europe, where medical men are more familiar with the toxic possibilities of the plant, hundreds of cases have been reported and studied. The trouble occurs oftenest in florists, housewives and servants, simply because these persons handle the primrose most frequently.

It is interesting to note also the fact that primrose eczema is most prevalent each year just following Easter when the plants are freshly distributed as presents among our better halves, present or prospective, whatever she may be to the sender thereof. But many persons are strikingly susceptible to the poison, just as they are to poison ivy.

It seems the poisonous part of the plant is a greenish secretion which exudes from the stalk and leaves. Nestler in Germany has made exhaustive experiments with the plant in order to locate the toxic principle. Fortunately the eruption is always confined to the points of contact between the victim and the poison and does not spread like ivy poisoning. Thus the hands and arms are oftenest affected, though the face and ears are frequently involved because the poison is carried to them unconsciously by the hands. The palms of the hands usually escape, however.

The symptoms may come on a few hours after the primrose is touched. First there is a burning succeeded by itching. Then appears the fiery blotches and swelling, often resulting in large blisters. Insomnia, loss of appetite, and great irritability are the natural accompaniments of the inflamed skin. Attacks last from four days to two weeks and may torture the patient unmercifully. Many unsuspecting victims rapidly recover after going to bed because removed from daily contact with the plant, only to renew the trouble as soon as they are able to get up and trim the primrose. In this way cases practically chronic have existed for months at a time.

Florists should be informed of the toxic potentiality of the primrose, and should warn purchasers of the dainty flower. And no right thinking young man should present his mother-in-law with a primrose after reading this exposure of the hypocritical little blossom.

Gentlemen:—I cultivated last year two acres of land and gathered 130 bushels of corn from same. I used three sacks of Grange Mixture on these two acres and no other fertilizer. I regard this brand well suited to the land of this section.

Yours truly,
Z. Williams.

Wanted—Laundry help, 4 fancy ironers, 2 bosom machine operators, 3 for starch room, 4 mangle girls, and 1 cook. All help must be well experienced, good salaries for hustlers.
